A Money Making Scheme.
A Cripple Girl Getting Rich Off
of Cancelled Stamps.
There appeared in the Chicago Tribune not long ago an article entitled "Again the Million Stamp Craze," telling of the efforts of a young crippled woman at the mythical village of Evansville, Ill., to raise sufficient money to pay her fees in a medical institute. This came to the attention of Mr. J. C. Koehlin, a member of several philanthropic societies, who set down and figured out the possibilities of the scheme detailed in the Tribune's article, and discovered that the sum of $34,000 would be involved in stamps, for which the cripple would eventually receive $125 a million.
A person at Gardner, Kas., signing him "R. T.," sent a letter he received, in which he was invited to become a link in a chain to assist Edna R. Brown of Kaneville, Ill., "R. T.," called attention to the fact that if all the chains remained unbroken the cripple at Kaneville, Ill., would have to be enlarged considerably to accommodate the 20 millions or so of letters that Edna would receive.
A Kansas City railroad man, who was twice asked to participate in this scheme of philanthropy, wrote to the agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at Sugar Grove, Ill., the nearest railroad point to Kaneville, asking if Edna's appeal was bona fide; if it existed such a person, and if she expected to be benefited by the stamps which she must be receiving. The agent's reply will be interesting to the many persons who have sent stamps and money to the fortunate young woman. It is as follows:
"Edna R. Brown lives at Kaneville, Ill., but she is not a cripple. She has a sister-in-law who is a cripple. They have received between 10 and 15 million stamps and considerable money during the last three months. Edna Brown has received thousands of letters every day. Last Monday she received 15,000. Tuesday 12,000; most of them containing money orders, postoffice orders, etc. They have already received more than any other stamps or money. I cannot say how much money, the amount must certainly be very large. It would simply be nonsensical for anyone to send any more stamps or money."
It was also ascertained that Edna is a mere hamlet, with four or five houses, a general store and a windmill, and the "medical institute" in which Edna proposed to have her physical deformities corrected existed wholly in her mind.
Computing modestly, Edna has received nearly $100,000 worth of stamps at the current price for such, and if she received money orders of the average value of twenty cents each, she has received considerably over $100 a day for at least two days from that source.
It is to be presumed that very many persons, charitably inclined, have gone into this scheme of enriching Edna R. Brown and her accomplices, and they will probably learn the facts in the case with pleasure and profit.

Lost His Case by His Assessor's Return.
At the last term of the Van Wert Court of Common Pleas a young man was on the witness stand trying to establish a claim of some $1,400 against his father, who is now in prison. The father had loaned his son $1,000 in cash and furnished personal property valued at $400. He sailed along all right until the attorney for the opposite side presented his return, made to the township assessor a few days before his trial, of the value of the property. In making of that important document he swore he did not possess moneys or other personal property. The result was that his oath was discredited and he lost his case. —Van Wert Bulletin.

Tony Farrell in his latest success, "Garry Owen," at the opera house on to-morrow evening, Jan. 25th, will be a red letter event in the amusement season. As the play is guaranteed to be one of the best on the road. The press speak in high terms of the play, as the following from two of the leading papers of the country will show:
"Tony Farrell in his new play, 'Garry Owen,' opened at the Grand Opera House, and proved a grand success from start to finish. The play is full of exciting scenes, bright, catchy music and fun galore. It is well cast and well mounted; the scenery all new and beautiful, especially the illuminated church scene in the second act, which aroused the audience to the demonstrative expression of delight. We predict a prosperous future for 'Garry Owen.' —Chicago Inter-Ocean.
"Garry Owen," the new play written for Tony Farrell, was produced for the first time in St. Louis, at Hagan's Theatre last night. It is a clean, healthy Irish drama, full of incident and character work, well executed by a clever company. Mr. Farrell was well supported throughout, and the play was extremely well received by a large audience. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In Praise of Hot Water.
"If I were asked what woman's best friend is, I should say hot water. If she drinks hot water an hour before her breakfast she will be able to ward off dyspepsia. If she drinks hot water flavored with lemon and sweetened with sugar when she has been out in the cold she will ward off colds. The same agreeable medicine taken early enough in the progress of a cold will stop it. When a nervous headache makes the forehead throb and the back of the neck ache hot water will relieve the pain.
"For tired eyes, inflamed eyelids and itchy eyes, continued the doctor, 'nothing is so good as hot water. The eyes should be soothed with a cloth dipped in boiling water. Sprains may be relieved greatly by soaking the afflicted member in hot water for half an hour, and then applying a bandage with flannel bandage. Bruises yield to much the same treatment, although such long soaking is unnecessary. Wounds and sores may be treated by pouring hot water on them for a few minutes at a time, and put on the foot of a carriage if binding it with flannel bandage. Bruises yield to much the same treatment, although such long soaking is unnecessary. Wounds and sores may be treated by pouring hot water on them for a few minutes at a time, and put on the foot of a carriage if binding it with flannel bandage."
"Then for mere comfort," he went on, "few things equal hot water. A rubber bag full of it makes one indifferent to cold. Rapped in flannel and put on the foot of a carriage it is invaluable. She who suffers from cold feet at night has but to fill a hot water bag to know what comfort is. Sufferers from sleeplessness find themselves deliciously drowsy after a hot bath. A Money Making Scheme.
of Cancelled Stamps.
There appeared in the Chicago Tribune not long ago an article entitled "Again the Million Stamp Craze," telling of the efforts of a young crippled woman at the mythical village of Evansville, Ill., to raise sufficient money to pay her fees in a medical institute. This came to the attention of Mr. J. C. Koehlin, a member of several philanthropic societies, who set down and figured out the possibilities of the scheme detailed in the Tribune's article, and discovered that the sum of $34,000 would be involved in stamps, for which the cripple would eventually receive $125 a million.
A person at Gardner, Kas., signing him "R. T.," sent a letter he received, in which he was invited to become a link in a chain to assist Edna R. Brown of Kaneville, Ill., "R. T.," called attention to the fact that if all the chains remained unbroken the cripple at Kaneville, Ill., would have to be enlarged considerably to accommodate the 20 millions or so of letters that Edna would receive.
A Kansas City railroad man, who was twice asked to participate in this scheme of philanthropy, wrote to the agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad at Sugar Grove, Ill., the nearest railroad point to Kaneville, asking if Edna's appeal was bona fide; if it existed such a person, and if she expected to be benefited by the stamps which she must be receiving. The agent's reply will be interesting to the many persons who have sent stamps and money to the fortunate young woman. It is as follows:
"Edna R. Brown lives at Kaneville, Ill., but she is not a cripple. She has a sister-in-law who is a cripple. They have received between 10 and 15 million stamps and considerable money during the last three months. Edna Brown has received thousands of letters every day. Last Monday she received 15,000. Tuesday 12,000; most of them containing money orders, postoffice orders, etc. They have already received more than any other stamps or money. I cannot say how much money, the amount must certainly be very large. It would simply be nonsensical for anyone to send any more stamps or money."
It was also ascertained that Edna is a mere hamlet, with four or five houses, a general store and a windmill, and the "medical institute" in which Edna proposed to have her physical deformities corrected existed wholly in her mind.
Computing modestly, Edna has received nearly $100,000 worth of stamps at the current price for such, and if she received money orders of the average value of twenty cents each, she has received considerably over $100 a day for at least two days from that source.
It is to be presumed that very many persons, charitably inclined, have gone into this scheme of enriching Edna R. Brown and her accomplices, and they will probably learn the facts in the case with pleasure and profit.
